Daniel Zabłudowski has more than thirty-five years of experience representing clients in the areas of corporate, business and commercial transactions, real estate, loan transactions, and domestic and offshore incorporations, including the formation and structuring of such entities on behalf of investors.

Professional Background

Mr. Zabłudowski's business practice includes representing both sellers and purchasers involved in U.S. based and cross border commercial and business transactions, including mergers and acquisitions and in the sale and purchase of businesses. He also acts as general or special counsel, advising clients in a wide variety of planning issues including the formation, organization and structuring of business entities such as limited liability companies, corporations, partnerships and joint ventures. Mr. Zabłudowski's practice also includes negotiating shareholder, commercial and operational agreements, employment and confidentiality agreements, franchise, distribution and licensing agreements.

Mr. Zabłudowski counsels clients with respect to the legal and business aspects of operating, financing and expanding their businesses. He also acts as general or special counsel to closely held and family-owned businesses, advising clients in a wide variety of planning issues, including but not limited to negotiating the acquisition and disposition of businesses, organizing and planning new business ventures, restructurings and risk management.

Mr. Zabłudowski routinely provides advice to clients with respect to issues relating to business ownership and succession planning.

Mr. Zabłudowski also advises clients on a full range of general and internal business matters, including corporate governance, risk management, labor and employment matters and severance disputes, consulting and management arrangements, non-competition and confidentiality agreements and the protection of trade secrets and intellectual property rights.

In recent years, Mr. Zabłudowski has become active in representing startup companies and the venture capital firms that support them. He works with an extensive network of institutional lenders, investment bankers and advisers, venture capital firms and private investors.
